Every project that I work on I try to bring an original and creative way of viewing the subject. Each job is different, but my aim is always to create exciting and stimulating images that will help to best tell the story of your production. I've over twenty years experience working in broadcast television, commercials and corporate films. During that time I've worked in many challenging locations around the world, from the back streets of Mumbai to bullet trains in Japan and the wet and windy streets of Manchester. I'll use my knowledge to suggest how to best achieve your aims so that together we produce a film with great content and great pictures.

Testimonials

"I always look forward to working with Damian. The kit he supplies is up to date and extensive; he works in a calm and assured way; His pictures look great and he gives the editor lots of options. He is unfailingly polite and pleasant with contributors and makes the shooting experience hassle free and enjoyable. As an added bonus his sense of humour makes me laugh. I highly recommend working with him."

"Damian is a very reliable cameraman. I worked with him for over a year and a half filming talent and contributors in often challenging and uninspiring locations. His calm demeanour and problem-solving focus meant that his approach to lighting and film technique lifted an ordinary sequence into something dynamic and attractive. He is great with people, steady under pressure and always creative."
